EDC FAQ

What should I do if, when accessing the EDC portal, I see a "System Down" message?

FSRA will be whitelisting all associated company IP addresses. This will include in-office IP addresses as well as appropriate home addresses while connected to the credit union's VPN. Any addresses that are outside of those criteria will not be whitelisted and will prevent access to the EDC portal.

What is the correct date format? We have seen different instructions across the RRDS versions that have been provided.

FSRA is asking for all date formats to be in YYYY-MM-DD for now. This will apply to all data points, including Not Available or Not Applicable values. We are aware of instances where excel will automatically revert dates to an incorrect format when the file is opened. A fix is being developed to address this issue, and it will be implemented as soon as it is ready.

What are the supported file types for submission through the EDC Portal?

FSRA is asking for .csv files, specifically those that are UTF-8 encoded. To ensure your files are appropriately encoded, you can confirm this by opening the file(s) in Notepad, which lists the encoding in the bottom right corner of the file. To amend the file encoding, review the Encoding option when using the "Save As" tool in Notepad.

When will we be able to use the Analytic functionality to compare to our associated peers and the sector?

FSRA is actively working to add this functionality to the rollout of the EDC Portal to allow credit unions to gain insights from the data being provided by the sector. Timely insights into sector themes and trends are a key benefit of EDC and will be rolled out as the quality of data received from the sector allows.

Once we have been onboarded to the EDC Portal, we are still filing the MiR and AiR submissions through the legacy portal. When will this change?

Yes, please continue to submit regulatory filings MiR and AiR through the existing system as well until receiving a notification of change from FSRA. As all credit unions are onboarded into Phase 2 of EDC, we anticipate a six-month crossover window in which credit unions will submit regulatory filings through both systems. Once all credit unions have been onboarded and we have determined that data completeness and integrity are at acceptable levels, FSRA will start the legacy system off-boarding and transition to using the EDC portal only.
