

FSRA is actively reviewing all FSCO regulatory direction, including but not limited to forms, guidelines and FAQs.

Until FSRA issues new regulatory direction, all existing regulatory direction remains in force.

You are here: Home > Insurance > Licensing & Registration Requirements > Do you have a licence issued in another province or territory?  PRINT

Do you have a licence issued in another province or territory?

Effective July 1, 2011, changes to the Agreement on Internal Trade (AIT) and the Ontario Labour Mobility Act, 2009 make it easier for an individual who is licensed outside Ontario to apply for and receive a licence in Ontario for the same occupation.

The AIT is an intergovernmental agreement signed by Canada’s Premiers and came into force in 1995.

Under the new rules, an individual holding a licence in good standing that is equivalent to Ontario’s insurance agent or adjuster licence or mortgage broker or mortgage agent licence may be exempted from Ontario’s education and experience requirements. For more information:

Are you licensed as a life including A&S insurance agent or an A&S only insurance agent in another province or territory?

Are you licensed as a general insurance agent in another province or territory?

Are you licensed as an insurance adjuster in another province or territory?

Are you licensed as a mortgage broker or mortgage agent in another province or territory?

For more information, go to Frequently Asked Questions

Follow FSCO on social media

- About Insurance >
- Licensed Representatives Listings >
- Enforcement Actions >
- Publications & Resources >

Careers >

Explore FSCO >

Contact Us >

 Scheduled Online Service

Disruption Notice

Please consult our outage schedule for more details.

Back to top

Page: 2,478 | Find Page: